

Taking Centre Stage

Life at the Imperial Residences in Pavilion Damansara Heights is where you can have it all in style without leaving the comforts of your home

From top: With a built-up of 3,369 sqft and 4,090 sqft, the Imperial Residences boasts multifunctional spaces; the artist's impression of Pavilion Damansara Heights; a sample look at the welcoming foyer

Picture yourself waking up without a care in the world, despite having an early flight and the traffic build-up outside. You go about your morning routine, and enjoy a panoramic view of Kuala Lumpur over the horizon from the spacious expanse of your living room. Then you take the private elevator down, and head towards the Pavilion Damansara Heights MRT station, where it's only two stations away from KL Sentral where you can hop on the KLIA Express to make it for your flight. You'll never want for anything at Pavilion Damansara Heights, and because residents of these exclusive residences have access to the Pavilion Concierge Service, you also have the luxury of having time to both yourself and loved ones, as you're provided a helping hand with everyday tasks like housekeeping and laundry. You won't have to travel far for amenities, as the Pavilion Lifestyle Mall below is a 1 million sqft retail space that houses numerous international fashion and consumer brands for the avid shopper, plus an indoor alfresco dining experience called the Gourmet Boulevard that serves an array of international fare. What's more, it's easily accessible via major highways and is at the centre of some of the most affluent, family-friendly neighbourhoods—namely Bangsar and Mont Kiara, which have golf clubs, recreational parks, and international schools.
